

PATHWAYS TO MEDICINE

Pre-Med Workshop for Teens: IV + Injection Lab

This workshop is a truly one-of-a-kind medical experience for teens that will teach each participant the basics of inserting and starting an IV, administering injections, collecting venous blood samples, and much more! Whether you are interested in nursing and dermatology or anesthesia and surgery as possible career paths, this lab will allow you to practice and perfect the skills these professions use every day! You will learn first-hand how healthcare professionals deliver life-saving medicine in hospitals and clinics using IV's and injections.
